MetLife Resources Supports Healthcare HR Professionals at ASHHRA's Annual Conference

MetLife Resources (MLR) recently exhibited at the 45th annual conference of the American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Administration (ASHHRA) in Chicago, IL. The conference provided an opportunity for healthcare HR administrators to network with other professionals while accessing the latest tools and resources to strengthen their roles in the field.

In addition to various educational seminars and exhibitions throughout the conference, MLR and ASHHRA representatives also enjoyed a night of live music and entertainment – as well as a visit from Snoopy – at the House of Blues.

MLR, a division of MetLife that specializes in retirement and financial services for healthcare, education and nonprofit markets, was a corporate sponsor and exhibitor at the conference. MLR also recognizes and supports the healthcare professional's development through the ASHHRA Conference Scholarship fund, where one winner from each of ASHHRA's nine regions received a stipend to attend the conference.

The American Society for Healthcare Human Resources Administration is a professional membership group of the American Hospital Association, dedicated to meeting the professional needs of the health care human resources practitioner.
